Read Grateful Challenge November 1-December 31st

We have a new reading challenge for all ages. Read 10 books of your choice about gratitude, log your reading on our library's Beanstack site, and earn a new set of colorful badges. The library has lists of suggested books about gratitude to get you started. You can encourage your students to participate in the challenge and participate yourself!

Featured DVD's

We continue to get in new DVD's in Youth Services that would be great learning opportunities in your classroom. Call the library with questions!

Books for the Presidential Election

We have a great selection of books for the election! Let us know what you are looking for!

Duck for President!

Have you checked out your Duck for President craft learning bag? Included are directions to make your duck, a word search, and a ballot to return to win a copy of the book Duck For President! Why not copy the templates and make them for your class?

Traveling Journals are Here!

Traveling journals are themed journals that you can check out, read, contribute, and return! These journals are great for the classroom as a writing opportunity and are also great for individual writing. There are many journals to chose from. Call the library to learn more or to reserve yours!

24 different journals to choose from!

Linda's Corner

Scaredy Squirrel by Melanie Watt is a series of books that will bring a laugh to all who read them. Each book has a different theme but has the same lay out. The best part of these books in my opinion are the maps! Do you teach a map unit? If so these books are a great addition to your unit. The books are loaded with good learning, lots of laughs, and a lesson about kindness. What's not to love about Scaredy Squirrel?

Gustavo, the Shy Ghost
By Flavia Z. Drago
Check out this sweet new picture book about a ghost who doesn't have any friends. He eventually summons up the courage to invite other monsters to his violin concert on the Day of the Dead. Will anyone come? También lo tenemos en español: Gustavo,el fantasmita tímido
